Cross Firm On His $1 Tag

CALGARY, Oct. 11.—(CP)—Dr. W. C. Cross, Alberta health minister, said today that only three day hospitalizations have a $1-U.S. hospitalization plan in operation can qualify for grants for new hospital construction.

Dr. Cross made the statement in an interview, commenting on the passing of a resolution by the Union of Alberta Municipalities Friday that the provincial government be urged to match municipal hospital construction grants with out-lying conditions to the provincial grant.

The city of Calgary has been refused a provincial grant for the new general hospital because there is no $1-a-day hospitalization plan in effect.

South Alberta to Get Trans-Canada Route

Route of the Trans-Canada highway through Alberta will be through Medicine Hat, Calgary, Banff and the Big Bend highway.

This was disclosed here today by Senator MacKinnon reported by Senator James A. MacKinnon, who arrived in Edmonton at the weekend for a short holiday in the city.

Senator MacKinnon stated he had received information last week from Ottawa that the provincial authorities here had indicated to federal government the choice of the southern route as Alberta's link in the national highway system.

Commenting on the decision, Senator MacKinnon said his personal sympathy was for the northern route through the Yellowhead Pass. Construction of this route would be less expensive, and the highway could be more easily kept open throughout the year, he said.

Plans for construction of the $4,000,000 highway, federal building and the 300-room extension to the Mandelkern hotel are proceeding rapidly, Senator MacKinnon reported.

Construction will start on both projects as early as possible next year.

Appointment of successor to the late Hon. Horace Hargrave, former chief justice of Alberta's appellate division of the supreme court, and justice to the supreme court have not been discussed, he said.

Unions provincial and federal governments are going to consider building two Trans-Canada routes, the Yellowhead should be carefully studied because of its many advantages over the other two suggested routes, Mayor Ainslie said. He was commenting on the announcement that Alberta government has decided on the Calgary, Banff and Big Bend location.

"Originally the route should not be chosen without much further investigation than we have been advised has taken place so far," said the mayor.

"To say why any government, provincial or federal, hesitated to have a full study made by competent people before launching such an ambitious scheme, surely the people of Canada have a right to be assured that their funds will be spent where the road will be to the best advantage of all concerned."

Their wives and parents, cheered as the plane landed. The plane was unsteady on its first landing and it took several minutes before the crowd surged forward.

Jesseward and Woodhouse had hoped to stay in the air indefinitely but a burst of engine trouble forced them back to earth. Emergency fire and rescue crews were by all night in case the engine would cause a crash as they returned from a speeding ground vehicle.

A crowd of 10,000, including

Thieves Find Hidden Money

Thieves netted more than $1,500 in three separate break-ins here over the holiday weekend. They mixed loot in a fourth break-in.

The largest theft was reported to police by Mike Zigzag, Cameron Block. He said $1,000 in small currency was taken from his room between 6 p.m. Monday and 7 a.m. today. The money was in a locked suitcase in a padlocked chest. Several bottles of liquor also were stolen.

A break-in was made at Larkin's department store, 1042 Jasper last night.

The confidant on the beach found the door of the store open. An undetermined amount of merchandise had been stolen from the second floor.

John Schultze, 10714-108 street, reported that he was locked in a trunk in his home. He was attending the Rosary Crusade rally when the theft occurred.

Market Building Is Also Quashed

Money by-laws on civic auditorium, market building and a new swimming pool were killed today by the Board of Public Utility Commissioners.

They struck the items, totalling $1,750,000, from the list of 13 by-laws to be submitted to ratepayers' approval Nov. 2 and left a total of $3,357,500 to be voted on.

Mayor Harry Ainslie said the auditorium proposal has thus been eliminated "for a long time" unless there is some chance of raising private funds for at least part of the expenditure as an inducement for the city to complete it.

The market project can be handled through current estimates if council wants to go ahead with it, he said.

Third Slaying Faces Yard

LONDON, Oct. 11.—(CP)—Scotland Yard was confronted today with a third slaying after a woman was found dead in a paddling pool last Sunday.

The battered bodies of Louis Goodman, 54, and his wife Esther were found on the floor of their apartment in the Edgeware district. Police later detained a man for questioning.

A few hours earlier Dennis Barry, 21, was charged with the murder of 19-year-old blonde Kathleen Ream, whose nude body was found in a paddling pool last Sunday.

The Southdown financial sector, who ran Canada's prime bank system during the war, succeeded R. C. Vaughan as head of the nationally-owned line, one of the nation's greatest railroad systems.

Mr. Vaughan, 68, is retiring on superannuation.

With the appointment, Mr. Gordon takes control of a $250,000,000 corporate empire that includes a national railway and hotel, steamship, telegraph and other allied services.

He becomes the first non-railway man to take over as chief of the company since 1923, and the first to be raised on from outside the ranks of the CNR since that year.

Sadistic Youths Being Sought

DENVER, Colo., Oct. 11.—(AP)—Police today sought five youths who swayed a high school student Saturday night and cut 11 sets of initials into his arms. Ronnie Rains, 18, said he was attacked as he returned home from a high school football game and in a paddling pool last Sunday.

OTTAWA, Oct. 11.—(CP)—Appointment of Donald Gordon, 49-year-old deputy governor of the Bank of Canada, as chairman and president of the Canadian National Railways was announced today in Ottawa by Transport Minister Chevrier.

Early Break Is Expected In Solving Chinese Slaying

Rewards totalling $1,000 have been posted for information leading to the arrest of slayers of Sam Kee, 52-year-old Chinese market gardener who was strangled to death in his North Edmonton room cellar Saturday night.

Statements were released today by the Chinese Benevolent Association and Mayor Harry D. Ainslie on behalf of the city that such would pay $500 for the capture of the murderers.

City detectives drummed up their search for the slayers of the well-to-do gardener. Several persons have been closely watched by detectives and questioning of suspects has continued. Five who were questioned were later released.

"We're working on several angles to the killing," an official commented, "and expect to get a break soon."

Police believe robbery was the motive of the slaying.

The man had been attacked when he was entering the cellar with a sack full of carrots at about 9 p.m. Saturday, city detectives stated.

Lying beside the body police found several feet of cyanide, a small bottle of cyanide and a crude home-made pocket knife with a three-inch blade.

ROBBERY MOTIVE

According to Detective Inspector Bert Peterson, motive for the murder was robbery.

"We believe the men who killed Kee thought he might have a large amount of money on the premises."

This was substantiated when police found the man's bedroom in his shanty, about 30 yards from the cellar ransacked.

"The men who attacked Kee must have looked just inside the cellar door waiting for Kee to come from the fields," stated Inspector Peterson.

EVIDENCE OF STRUGGLE

Evidence of a struggle was present at the door of the root cellar where a sack of carrots had been overturned and spilled into a pile of manure.

When clashing the Chinese with a lantern, the attackers then struck him at the neck, wrist and knees with rope.

The thugs grew panic when they realized they had killed the 52-year-old man, detectives believe.

BINDINGS CUT

When found Sunday morning by police the body was resting on its back.

Economics reversed.

World Trade

Whole western world will have to change trading habits and accept new investment conditions if economic catastrophe is to be averted, says Canada's External Affairs Minister J. H. Pearson. Pearson says America now must pioneer in "developing" Europe, reversing the process of the last century.

Science

A lot of people still think the earth is flatter than a pancake and they're not referring to the economic situation either. On the occasion of Columbus Day, research experts point out that natives of Ethiopia and Australia still think the earth one big flat plain. Ethiopians are worried about oil drilling. They think drills will go through earth and let oil leak out the other side.

Great Britain

Socialism is pretty wonderful in some ways at that. An Englishman lost his false teeth when senile on a vacation. West-Suffolk executive council has decided a man is entitled to new dentures under Britain's plan. Officials were sympathetic to man's plea of "my denture was old and there was nothing I could do about it."

America's Joseph Cardinal Spellman has been chosen as a Communist UN delegate with providing $20,000 for a plot against the Communist regime in Hungary. Dmitri Z. Russia is reported at Lake Success as being on verge of presenting new proposals for world disarmament, which will include exchange of A-bomb information.

Calgary Pair Thrill In Saturday Concert

Sometimes you wonder how young and relatively inexperienced musicians in this part of the country can present such exceptionally fine recitals, when widely-known professionals, paid large sums of money, often can be so disappointing.

"That certainly came to mind Saturday afternoon at the Young Artists' Series recital, sponsored jointly by the Women's Musical Club and the Alberta Registered Music Teachers' Association.

Two youthful Calgary musicians presented a thoroughly enjoyable program. Pianist was Monica Engle, a young lady of considerable keyboard talent.

What made her performance notable was that not only did she execute the various compositions in the program with great technical ability, but she possessed a particular spark that marks the true artist from the pounder of notes who sees only the black dots on his paper.

It is that combination of finger work with tone, tempo, and phrasing that can magically make those black dots into something beautiful. I could have sat and listened to Miss Engle through all the night.

NATURAL VOICE
When she accompanied the singer on the program, tenor James Lamond, she did it so wonderfully that it was a great temptation to listen to her rather than to the singer.

Lamond obviously has not had the training which his contemporaries on the program revealed, but nevertheless has a good natural

Imperial Oil and Gov't Will Drill At Namao

Exploration of the Namao airport and acreage adjacent to it will be carried out by Imperial Oil Ltd. in agreement with the federal government.

This was announced here today by Senator James A. MacKinnon, who stated the development agreement had been signed by him as acting minister of mines and resources.

START OCT. 15
Under the agreement Imperial Oil Ltd. will start drilling on the Namao airport Saturday, Oct. 15, and will continue exploration of the airport property and adjacent land, the entire drilling program to be completed by May 31, 1950.

Area in which the development exploration will be carried out covers eight and a half sections of land, all rights of which are held by the federal government, and the balance by the oil company.

Terms of the agreement were not disclosed by Senator MacKinnon other than that drilling will be carried out on a royalty basis.

Contemplated large military extensions of the Namao airport make necessary to determine the oil and natural gas possibilities of airport property and land adjacent to the airport, Senator MacKinnon stated.

WONT HALL WORK
Senator MacKinnon was emphatic that discovery of oil on airport property would not result in stoppage of airport expansion of facilities at the port.

All drilling will be carried out under the direction of Department of National Defence officials, and Imperial Oil Co. Ltd. has undertaken that installations in connection with the exploration program will not interfere with operations at the airport.

Natural gas seepages, set aflame by men or natural causes, were killed at Namao last week.

Body was discovered by Sam Hlook, a former employee, who had been working at the airport.

EXCLUSIVE STORY
Mr. Hlook, in an exclusive interview with the Bulletin Sunday said how he had found his friend.

"I went over to see Sam and get some money he owed me for work I did about two weeks ago," said Mr. Hlook.

"Going to the door, I knocked a couple of times but Sam didn't answer. I went in and saw him lying on the floor. I went inside but couldn't find him and found his bedroom upset," he said.

"Then I went to the roof cellar. As I approached the door was open. I could see inside and saw it was dark," he related.

SAW THE BODY
"Swinging the door open further I saw Sam lying on the floor with his face in the mud," said Mr. Hlook.

"I didn't know what to do. I knew he was dead because his face was black. So I let loose with a scream."

A. J. James, of 12605-83 street, near 100th, saw the body, phoned city police.

Mr. James was also probably the last person to see the market gardener alive.

WORKED WITH VICTIM
"I had been working with Joe Saturday afternoon helping him dig carrots in the field behind his house," said Mr. James.

"After it got dark I went home and Sam kept on digging carrots by the light of his lantern," Mr. James stated.

"From the next thing I knew about 11, Sam Hlook was holtering south, was God Arndt of 4020-10 street. He escaped injury. Both Parker and Newman were taken to University Hospital in civic ambulance but Parker was dead on arrival.

Surviving Mr. Parker are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Parker.

CITY COPPER COPS COVETED HUNT PRIZE

Yolks, Talhough!
City police constables are seriously considering establishing a fox-hunting club.

It all started yesterday afternoon when Constable J. Jones brought to conclusion the first successful fox hunt staged by city police.

True, the trimmings, pink coats, derbies, and hunters, were lacking but the prize was there.

Constable Jones along with the caretaker of Borden Park, spotted a black fox in the wooded area. Taking two shots with his trusty automatic he felled the beast.

However, he forgot to mention whether or not he took home the huntsman trophy—the fox's tail.

One Killed, Ten Injured In City Over Weekend

One person was killed and 10 others were injured in traffic mishaps in Edmonton and district during Thanksgiving weekend.

John E. (Eddie) Parker, 21, of 14410-101 avenue was killed and a brother, William, 19, was injured in a collision with Miss Betty Oliver of Peace River, Alta., after their car collided with a parked truck on highway 2, six miles from Niperville last night.

ONE UNHURT
A fourth occupant of the auto, the World's young son, Gerry, escaped unhurt.

Injuries sustained by the three adults were of a minor nature. Royal Alexandra hospital officials reported. They will probably be released within the next 24 hours.

TWO-CAR CRASH
Larry Proppeck suffered severe shock after his car was in collision with an auto driven by Mr. Norman of 100 avenue near Memorial Drive.

Proppeck, Mr. and Mrs. Norman and their son, were all taken to University hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Worthing of 10600-127 street, were taken to hospital with Miss Betty Oliver of Peace River, Alta., after their car collided with a parked truck on highway 2, six miles from Niperville last night.

Five-year-old Joseph Boutin, received slight cuts on the left side of his face when he was knocked off a gravel street near his home. Police said he ran from in front of a parked car into the front of a car operated by John Panewsky of Dalmatien. The boy was taken to the Royal Alexandra hospital for first aid treatment.

Airline Officials Here On Preliminary Survey

Expanding importance of Edmonton oilfields and the province's scenic tourist attractions are factors which will extend another United States airline here as its northern terminus.

President Terrell C. Drinkwater of a large party of officials of Western Air Lines from Los Angeles arrived in the city over the weekend to start the framework for establishment of passenger and cargo air service planned to commence in the near future.

Western Air Lines at present reaches Alberta at Lethbridge and extends from San Diego and El Centro in California and Denver in Colorado to the south to Seattle in the north.

The service will be of particular value to travellers in the oil industry, directly linking, as it does, oil states such as California, Texas and Oklahoma through connections at Denver, said Mr. Drinkwater.

The Western Air Lines party includes besides the president: Arthur F. Kelly, assistant to the president; Marvin W. Landa, vice-president of service; Stanley R. H. Broderick, president of maintenance and engineering; D. P. Renda, attorney and assistant secretary; J. G. Broderick, manager in charge; Tom Murphy, director of government affairs.

The group will spend three or four days exploring preliminaries to establishment here. A conference was held Saturday afternoon with Mayor Harry D. Anlay, James A. H. Smith, 845 80 avenue, chairman of the Progressive Conservative party, arrived in Edmonton at the weekend to visit his sister who is seriously ill.

Teachers Discuss Present Methods

Convention Hears Opinions Of Three City Leaders

Modern teaching methods tend to ignore the "fundamentals?" That was the question posed before the 730 teachers attending the Edmonton School Districts' joint convention, as the two-day meet got underway here today.

Held in the Masonic Temple, the opening session was highlighted by a round table discussion on whether or not our educational system fits young people for present day life.

With J. L. McKinley as chairman, the discussion group included Dr. W. Johns of the University of Alberta, W. G. Morrow, city barrister; and C. O. McIntyre, general manager of Capital City Inc.

The three, who presented the views of the university, the professional business men and the school system, felt present methods tend to ignore the "tools" of spelling and arithmetic.

Said Mr. Morrow: "Students must first of all learn the technique of earning a living."

CAN NOT SPELL
"Many modern young people are anxious to learn, but they lack such elementary skills as the ability to spell."

Dr. Johns thought that perhaps the high schools were attempting to teach too much. Vocational subjects might better be handled by technical schools.

Convention was officially opened by a brief address from Mayor Anlay, who was introduced by Convention President G. M. Crawford.

Assembled delegates went on record as urging the Mayor to give life membership in the Alberta Teachers' Association.

Opening session also included a talk by Eric C. Anlay, ATA's general secretary-treasurer.

Teachers attending the convention represent school divisions of Barabatch, Clover Bay, Coal Branch, Edson-Jasper, Lac Ste. Anne, Smoky Lake, St. Mary, Sturgeon, Thorburn and Westlock. Convention continues today and tomorrow.

Second Auditorium Pan

Now that the $1,000,000 auditorium bylaw has been turned down by the Board of Public Utility Commissioners, the city should be prepared with an alternative bylaw involving a smaller expenditure of city money for this vital purpose.

In short, since official tenure and lack of faith in Edmonton's future has forbidden the submission of the bylaw as it stands, the next best proposal would be a $750,000 bylaw accompanied by a plan for selling $750,000 of city bonds to finance the project.

Early preparation of such an alternative plan is essential so that enough legislation of some kind may be passed this year.

For as Mayor Harry D. Ainlay has astutely pointed out, if some definite step towards the beginning of an auditorium is taken, the stigma of defeat and may not be built for 20 years.

The full million and a half bylaw would have been infinitely preferable because it offers a clean-cut and decisive method of securing a structure that Edmonton deserves.

But since there is official interference, the $750,000 bylaw plus the sale of $750,000 in baby bonds would be better than nothing at all.

Lightly Considered, Poorly Done

The federal government is taking far too lightly the objections raised in the house over the measure designed to abolish Canadian appeals to the judicial committee of the British Privy Council.

Government sponsors of the bill have been inclined to ridicule the amendment proposed by the opposition that when the Canadian supreme court becomes final in appeals, it should be recommended to consider as binding previous decisions of the privy council in respect to Canadian constitutional matters.

Such a recommendation, any government spokesman would be offensive to supreme court justices because a recognition of the principle of stare decisis (the decision stands) is fundamental to the law in Canada and in Canadian judicial practice.

This ridicule is not well grounded for the simple reason that any court could very well argue that it was not bound by decisions of another court whose jurisdiction had been outlawed.

It is a very easy step from the abolition of a privy council jurisdiction to the elimination of privy council appeals, and the connection could conceivably be established.

England's Socialized Coal Industry

Figures issued by the nationalized coal industry in Britain indicate that since the mines were turned over to public ownership coal is costing the consumer less.

In its first year of nationalization—1947—the industry lost 23,255,058 pounds, this changed in 1948 to a surplus of 4,691,965 pounds, while figures just announced for the first quarter of this year indicate a gross profit of 6,676,883 pounds, and two shillings and seven pence per ton.

To get this profit, the coal board has increased the price of coal to the home consumer by eight shillings and two pence per ton, and the foreign buyer has paid a further 25 shillings per ton over the home price. In addition to this, consumers in Britain are complaining that the

No one, we presume, is tremendously anxious to perpetuate the judicial precedents established by the privy council nor to sponsor the theory that the Canadian supreme court could not formulate good common law without the guidance of the judicial committee.

What arouses the ire of Canadian observers is the highly suspicious refusal of the government to incorporate into the new practice they nonchalantly assume the supreme court will follow as a matter of course.

This frivolous dismissal of a suggestion that will allow Canadians to have a highly important point, cannot fail to cause the same Canadians to wonder just what the government has in mind when it abolishes the idea of incorporating a common practice into law.

We have always maintained that the decision to abolish privy council appeals was precipitate. Now it appears that the manner of abolishing those appeals is even more precipitate.

At this best, one is reminded of the fact that that which is lightly considered is poorly done.

Bigger and Better Road Signs

Ever been lost in a maze? No, well come into Edmonton if you are a stranger and try to find your way around the city.

The few signs that there are indicating the route are so modest and shy that they leave themselves away from your gaze in the most amazing fashion.

Surely we are not ashamed of the fact that the route down McLaughlin Hill will lead the traveller onto the Calgary highway, or that 101 street will take him out on the road to Redwater, one of our most important oil fields.

Even if you are a resident in the city, you need the agility of a squirrel to shun up to the signpost and see the number of the street.

We are just about the most important city in Western Canada right now, and can expect to have a growing population of us. Let's give them a break by putting up signs that people can read without having to squint or strain their eyes.

Editor, Bulletin—This letter is written in reference to the write-up printed about the Rubinfeld concert.

Never in my life have I read such a downcast nasty column. Perhaps it was written by the same person who wrote that derogatory one on Erna Reck.

Could it be that this reporter is prejudiced against anyone carrying a foreign name? I am sure the Bulletin would just love to come back to Edmonton again, thanks to you.

You have one of my former performers who travels thousands of miles to perform in Edmonton's lovely "Cow Barn" to be commended for his kind deeds.

This type of review has appeared in your paper several times now, and honestly, Mr. Editor, I am surprised that you would print such trash in your otherwise well-run paper.

You expect us to get famous playing the piano? At least you could have headed these reviews "Local Opinion."

About Railways

The popular attitude in Western Canada is to applaud the efforts of various groups which are bucking the increases awarded to the railways. It is a popular idea because no one wants to pay more in freight than is absolutely necessary.

Yet it is not going to do us very much good if we persuade our government to pay still more, and if the result is that the Government has to make up a larger share of the operating costs out of subsidies drawn from public funds. The very effort of that it that we pay the cost indirectly as part of our taxes.

While some may argue that this will impose a larger share upon the tax-payers, it is those who do not use the railways who will be paying part of the bill for those who do.

The new report from the Dominion Bureau of Statistics discloses some disturbing figures. The operating revenue of Canadian railways in 1948 was $6,631,700, an increase of 11.5 per cent over 1947 to reach an all-time high. This resulted from the earlier increase in freight rates.

The very effort of that it that we pay the cost indirectly as part of our taxes.

While some may argue that this will impose a larger share upon the tax-payers, it is those who do not use the railways who will be paying part of the bill for those who do.

The new report from the Dominion Bureau of Statistics discloses some disturbing figures. The operating revenue of Canadian railways in 1948 was $6,631,700, an increase of 11.5 per cent over 1947 to reach an all-time high. This resulted from the earlier increase in freight rates.

Yet it is not going to do us very much good if we persuade our government to pay still more, and if the result is that the Government has to make up a larger share of the operating costs out of subsidies drawn from public funds. Road Help Policy Asked of Ottawa

Immediate Aid Is Demanded To Build Trans-Canada Highway

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., Oct. 11.—(CP)—The annual meeting of the southern Trans-Canada Highway Association has passed a resolution calling for a federal highway aid policy similar to that in effect in United States for the last 30 years.

In its week-end convention, the action (Crows Nest Route) and re-association changed its name to elected E. R. Macfarland of Leth- the Trans-Canada Highway Associ- bridge president.

The association went on record as being "firmly convinced of the need of establishing immediately a federal highway policy of aid towards the construction of a system of roads."

Walter Hendricks of Nelson, B.C., member of British Columbia legislature, was elected vice-president. Provincial division officers elected were:

British Columbia: Provincial president, Dr. Charles Wright, current.

Trail: regional vice-presidents, J. Jenkins, Princeton and Jas. White, Fernie.

Tariff Concessions Affect Trading of 33 Nations

By Harold Morrison

OTTAWA, Oct. 11.—(CP)—Canada and 32 other countries have reached a mutual exchange of tariff concessions in a continued post-war drive towards freer trade, it became known today.

Canada opened the door a little wider on a variety of goods, from textiles to coffee and from silk to accordions. In return she benefited from new import-duty cuts by United States and other trading nations.

U.S. concessions are expected to give such Canadian products as paper, plywood and leather a better chance to compete with home production in the U.S. dollar market.

Reductions stem from a five-month conference completed at Amiens, France, last August, presided over by Dana L. Wilgress, Canada's high commissioner in the United Kingdom.

Principally, however, the tariff cuts were negotiated to embrace 36 new member nations into the 25-member 1947 Geneva General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade. Extending the terms of the 1947 Geneva Pact, Canada granted concessions on 138 commodities to Denmark, Finland, Greece, Dominican Republic, Haiti, Italy, Liberia, Nicaragua, Sweden and Uruguay. Of this number, tariffs on 61 commodities were pared below Geneva Pact levels and extended to all 32 countries. The new rates are expected to come into operation in various stages from next Jan. 1 to May 30, 1950.

Former Alberta MP Speaks to East Group

TORONTO, Oct. 11.—(CP)—Anthony Hynds of Edmonton, former M.P., spoke to a group of parliament for Vegreville, Alta., and said tonight that indifference in an age of national life is one of the "greatest enemies" of a nation.

Addressing a dinner rally of Ukrainian Canadian Catholics here for their first congress for eastern and eastern Canada, he said that almost as bad as indifference are confusion, intellectual and physical laziness and a national inferiority complex.

IMAGINATION AIDS PAINTER GET SEA VIEW

MACCLIFFIELD, Ches.-tre, Eng., Oct. 11.—(CP)—Although his house is 40 miles from the sea, Frank Shuttleworth wanted a seaside view from his kitchen window.

So he decided to put it there himself—with a paint-brush on the backyard wall. On the 26-foot wall he painted blue sea and golden clouds. When he had finished, gaily-colored bathers lounged in deck-chairs, seagulls glided overhead and ships cruised off shore.

"Next year," Frank said, "I'm thinking of 'going abroad' in my backyard."

Yankees Raise Roof After Series Win

Veterans Join Newcomers In Back-Slapping Show

By Stan Mohr
Bulletin Sports Editor

EBERTS FIELD, Oct. 11.—Yankees got up a full head of steam, following their 10-4 triumph over Brooklyn Dodgers in the deciding game of the World Series here Sunday.

Headed by Coach Jim Turner, George Stinewess, "Tank" Bauer and Gene Woodling, the new world champions reached their dressing room through a long line of waiting newspapermen and cameramen.

Then followed a noisy 10-minute session of yelling, back-slapping, cheering and mutual admiration antics as one could imagine.

Manager Casey Stengel, ever an obliging gentleman, took charge to help the photographer get the shots they wanted. Setting the example, O'Casey struck every and every pose the flash-bulb brigade asked.

But he would even stoop on his head, had been asked.

Even oldsters like coach Bill Dickey, who have been through this thing many times, appeared to get as big a bang out of winning as Bauer, Coleman and the newcomers to World Series fame and dollars.

Indians Take Little Series
INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 11.—(AP)—The Indians took the first game of the Little Series Saturday night by hammering five Montreal Braves for a 12-2 victory. The decision gave the American Association team the lead in the seven-game series.

It was the third championship victory for the Indians, who have never lost a Little World Series. The International League were the defending champions.

Royce Lint, Indianapolis left-hander, won all the way for his second series victory, scattering four hits and no runs in six innings. Each team divided its series money into 25 shares. The Indians got $10,000 each from a pool of $250,000. The Braves cut $10,000 into shares of $250 each.

In one corner Jackie Robinson, along with Larry Doby, Cleveland Indians star, were busy discussing plans for a permanent move to the Norfolk, Virginia, American League. They were hitting upwards of 200 a year.

Robinson needed the hard-hitting Cleveland outfielder. "Who's gonna hit with him, who's gonna hit with him?" he asked. "Who's gonna hit with him?"

Yanks Like Champs of Old In Crushing Brooklyn Bid

By GAYLE TALBOT

BROOKLYN, Oct. 11.—(AP)—New York's "invincible destiny" reaped their final glory Sunday when they loosed an assault reminiscent of past great Yankee teams to crush Brooklyn Dodgers 10-6 and wrap up the 1949 World Series in five games.

A howling crowd of 32,771, packed into Ebbets Field, watched the new champions unload 11 solid hits. The first two came by the great Joe DiMaggio, and a triple and three doubles, off six Brooklyn batters, gave the Yanks a lead in the first six innings and won the series four games to one.

Everything was normal at the end of the three-hour-and-four-minute demolition job. The top relief pitcher of the generation, was in there for the third time, beating down and striking out Dodgers under the arc lights, which had been switched on for the first time in a World Series.

OLD, OLD STORY
"He was protecting," he had so often done during the year, a lead which had threatened to evaporate when his Yankee predecessor, Vic Raschi, came unhooked in the Brooklyn seventh and was pounded for four runs, including a homer by Gil Hodges, the Dodgers' first baseman, with two men aboard.

In the ninth inning, Lefty Joe rose to the heights by striking out Duke Snider, Jackie Robinson and the fearsome Hodges, the last with two aboard, to throttle the final gesture of the stricken Flatbushers. It was Joe's third appearance in the series, and he made it his masterpiece.

After being stopped almost cold by Don Newcombe and Alvin Dark, the Yankees played big, big, big. The first two games and being similarly ill-treated by Ralph Branca and pinch-hitter Johnny Mize came through in the butt end of the third game, the Bronx again won. It was a life in the line, two struggles and laid it on the Brooks with a heavy club.

Next Monday the Magic Lefty will commence their annual "Mop" game. The Yankees, led by Moe, Detroit Red Wings, and the game, likely directly during the playoffs, will be scheduled for Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday.

South Side followed their two-day school of last week with a drill at the Gardens Sunday afternoon.

Crutch, Thomas, Buzicki, Marchant, White, Smith, Peterson, McManus, Mullen, Detroit Red Wings, and the game, likely directly during the playoffs, will be scheduled for Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday.

TRIUMPH 2-1

Flyers Rusty In Puck Debut

By Hugh Watson

It was good for a first game. That was the consensus of opinion after last night's first appearance of the 1949-50 Flyers.

The idealists stopped the visiting Spokane Flyers 2-1, a pair of last-period goals turning the trick. But apart from several first flashes by the visiting Baltimore-Edmonton Flyers didn't look too impressive.

Maybe it was the first game of the season that caused that rusty look. Spokane, after all, was working on their fourth exhibition contest.

Previously the Spokes had broken even with Calgary Stampede, drawing, winning and losing one game.

Frank Currie had that happy-won look later in the dressing-room.

"A WARM-UP"—CURRIE
"It served as a warm-up for Friday night in Calgary," observed Currie. "We were rusty. But I'll work out between now and the Stampede."

Only injury was of a minor nature to goalie Ray Frederick. A screened shot caught him on the right forearm and raised a small blister-burn.

For two periods it looked like the invaders were going to be lucky enough to hold onto a 1-0 lead. Bill Snider gave Spokane their only goal at the four-minute mark of the second period, taking a pass from George Michalski.

Snider shot from 17 feet out, the puck deflecting off Frederick's skate into the goal. And it stayed that way until 8:40 of the third period. Steve Latoski finally fired the equalizer on a smooth two-way passing attack from Colin Kilburn and Dougie Anderson.

Winning goal was of the gift variety. Dinny McManus, the down-to-earth goalie, was hit by Bing Murre, a defenceman Ralph Lisle grabbed the rebound and shot it right back to Murre. This time he didn't miss. Bill Pettigrew was somehow credited with an assist while cheering down right wing.

Two fights were recorded. Eddie Snider tackled Carl Cirullo and a pair of ruminations was started. A free-fall in the third period. Both bouts were declared no-hitters.

Summary
Edmonton—Frederick; Lane; Currie; Pettigrew; Peterson; McManus; Mullen; Detroit Red Wings; and the game, likely directly during the playoffs, will be scheduled for Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday.

This is the season for duck, pheasant, and junior hockey schools.

Saturday Canadians wound up what executive member Jim McAdie terms a "very successful" two-day school. During the school junior coach Cooney LePeuvre had a good look at 48 boys.

Three signed after the Saturday drill were Al Bryant, Mike Hurst, and Babe McGee of Edmonton. Nick Pundick of Two Hills, and Eugene Chmielewski from Andrew.

RAIL ROUTES IN CALGARY RACE

CALGARY, Oct. 11.—(CP)—Don James, 24-year-old Winnipeg railway worker, Monday won his second straight victory in the Calgary Herald's 40th annual Series race by striking out the distance in 34 minutes 14 seconds.

Gordon Dickson of Clearbrook, Alberta, 17, won the novice award, running in 36:44 to come in as runner-up while Lyle Sundberg of Vancouver was third in 38:27. Two-time winner Nick Lipschuk of Sunnyside, Alberta, was fourth in 38:14.

Mount Royal College of Calgary won the team event.

Reynolds Saves NY 4th Game

BROOKLYN, Oct. 11.—It was big Alie Reynolds, the opening day hero who threw a 10-shout, that showed the Brooklyn Dodgers closer to elimination from the World Series Saturday.

Reynolds came on in the sixth inning to relieve Irvin Lohp and protect a two-run lead. He did just that, retiring 10 men in order as the Yankees swept the game 6-4 to grab a 3-1 lead in the series.

Sunday's final game was more or less anti-climactic, as Reynolds broke the Dodgers' momentum on the grass as the Yankees swept the game 6-4 to grab a 3-1 lead in the series.

When the last strike thudded into his mitt, catcher Yogi Berra said to lead the happy assault on the Yankees play.

Ottawa Wins QSHL Opener

OTTAWA, Oct. 11.—(CP)—The curtain was raised on the 1949-50 Quebec Senior Hockey League campaign Saturday when last year's Allan Cup winners, the Ottawa Senators, defeated Valleyfield Braves 7-2.

Playing-manager Toe Blake, former Montreal Hockey League star, and his Braves were outplayed and outscored in a game that was fast and tough for the first game of the season.

The Senators got two goals in each of the first and second periods. The Braves scored three in the third. Both Valleyfield counters came in the third period.

Yankee Players Pick Up Five Grand For World Series Triumph

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—(AP)—The winning New York Yankees and the losing Brooklyn Dodgers began scattering for their homes yesterday to await Fall World Series action from the home of the winner.

Yankee officials also began the painful task of returning some $700,000 to fans who bought tickets to watch the last few games at the stadium.

Casey is working on a two-year contract calling for $400,000 a season. It would cause no surprise if he were to leave the Yankees.

The happy Yanks, who survived everything except fire and flood, were celebrating their 10th World Series triumph, held a clean victory.

"Nothing to it," said old-time "Yankee" fan who said that the Yankees are the only team in the world that can win a World Series.

However, the series demonstrated clearly that speed becomes a secondary factor in deciding circumstances. The pouncing Dodgers have speed to burn, whereas the Yankees are slow and heavy-footed side. But the Braves never found it.

They had a prospect of a back, and actually stole only one back to their opponent's loss.

Packing Firm Chief Sees Drop in Livestock Here

Livestock production in Western Canada, especially in Alberta, is showing a marked decrease compared with last year, he said. Decline in livestock production was reported by J. Stanley MacClean, president, Canadian Packers Ltd., who said the decrease in Alberta was 25 per cent before production in 1948. Canada will fall by 100,000,000 pounds to meet her bacon supply commitments to Great Britain this year, he has been 16,250, compared with 54,000 in 1944, the peak hog production year. Expect of cattle in United States continues at a high level, Mr. MacClean reported and Canadian feed prices are being maintained at a high level because of this movement. Mr. MacClean said that labor relations with the company were very satisfactory and that an agreement had been renewed in August, 1949. The Hudson river in New York state has a length of 315 miles.

Uncle Wiggily's Bedtime Story

By HOWARD R. GARIS

Hidden beneath the canvas of the tent in Uncle Wiggily's pirate gold boat, Buster and Bunty didn't know what to do when Double Dip played his mouth organ. The fat little pig had crowded in with Buster and Bunty the showman, saying he was looking for ice cream.

"There, Double Dip! Look what you did! Bunty quickly switched off her little flashlight."

"But! What did I do, Bunty? I only came here to look for ice cream, same as you and Buster did. Then I played my mouth organ 'cause I must always find ice cream after I play. But what else did I do?"

"You woke up daddy and now he's come here and find us in the boat," Buster whispered in Double Dip's ear. The little pig giggled and Bunty said:

"Hush, Double Dip! Haven't you made noise enough?"

"Well, Buster, I didn't mean when he whispered in my ear and I couldn't help giggling. But why must you be so quiet, Buster?"

"Because Double Dip, we don't want daddy or Buster or Captain Silver to know."

"Quiet, Buster! Bunty held one paw over the lips of the Rabbit. Scout! 'Don't let him hear you!'

"Don't let you hear what?" Double Dip was getting ready to play his mouth organ again.

"Don't you dare play!" Bunty snatched the mouth organ away from the little fat pig.

"Why not?" Double Dip was feeling hurt. "Don't you like my mouth organ playing, Bunty? I play almost as good as Buster!"

"Oh, Double Dip, please don't ask so many questions. Hark!"

The two rabbit children and the little fat pig, hidden beneath the canvas in the pirate gold boat kept quiet and listened. They could hear the footstep more plainly now.

"It's that Uncle Wiggily coming, Buster!"

"Don't know, Bunty. It doesn't sound like daddy."

"Can't you lift up a corner of the tent canvas and look out, Buster?"

"I can try, Bunty."

"Why don't you ask who it is coming, then you'd know Bunty, will you please give me back my mouth organ?"

"No, Double Dip, I won't, thank you. Keep quiet! Buster can you see who it is?"

"No, Bunty. I can't. The moon has gone back of a cloud. But I hear the footstep clearer now."

"Oh dear! I suppose it's Uncle Wiggily. We'll find out that we have stowed away and he'll make us 'cor' out of the boat and—Bunty said:

"Then a voice they all knew to know."

"Well, I'm going anyhow. Wiggily said I couldn't go but I'm going. I've got some clothes to get on Ghost Island and I'm going!"

The canvas cover of the boat was raised. Someone else was crowding in. I think you can guess who it was.

The first Dutch railroad was constructed in 1848.

A Number Of Toys Can Be Made From Straw

Dear Tawasi

When a person sees a bundle of straw on the ground he usually thinks of things that can be made from the straw. But quite a number of toys can be made from a bundle of straw.

Maybe you would like to try to make the toys some day.

The making is probably the easiest to make. To begin, you pick out some straw exactly the same length from the bundle of straw. Now take a piece of cardboard, cut it in a circle for the bottom of the basket, and bore thirteen holes round the edge of it, making sure they are at the same distance apart.

The holes must be big enough to admit the straw, but not large enough to allow them to pass through. In the straw you have the holes, leaving them standing out just a little at the bottom to form the feet. You will have fun making the sides.

Weave very narrow colored ribbons in and out across the straw, beginning at the bottom. When you reach the top into the straw under and over the last row to form a round border. To finish, tuck the end out of straw with a little glue and the basket will be complete.

ready for use when the little stool is made. The next thing to do is bore holes in one side of each of the long straw, in exactly the same position in each. Now fix in the short straws which act as supports.

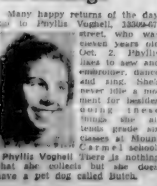

The long straws are now placed in the form of an X and fastened with a string large pin, which should have the point immediately turned up with a pair of pliers. Place the four supporting straws into position and put a little glue on the top of each. Now lay the rest over these straws.

The top of the legs should come right against the ends of the paper that has been glued round the straw. Maybe you could use the straw when playing with your dolls or teddy bears.

You and your friends can have lots of fun making toys from a bundle of straw. Some day when there is nothing else to do surprise your parents by making a basket, a ladder, or a stool.

Sincerely,

John Walker

Children Suffer as Roving Indians Faithful to Chief

Nomads of Foothills Spurn Reserve Block

By KEN LIDDELL

ROCKY MOUNTAIN HOUSE, Oct. 31.—Requesting to their children a life of dire poverty and virtual literacy because they are faithful to dying wish of an early chief that they fight for the heritage of their people, 500 Chippewa Indians are roaming the foothills as Canada's last nomads.

This is a strange story, with many sides, and one is the question of why they should continue this nomadic, fruitless existence when for the sake of their children they could take up a $3,000 reservation which, if it were not for the fact that the Indians have been blocked out for so long, they would have accepted.

People hereabouts who are acquainted with Chippewas offer two answers.

TWO REASONS

One is that the Chippewas claim their reason for not accepting treaty is because the country is their heritage and white man's land. It is without adequate compensation.

The other answer is that the Chippewas believe the area blocked out for them is too far from settled points and would not be productive.

The blocked area is on the North River, from north end of the present Cree reserve to the river. It is reported there are millions of feet of marketable timber there but the Indians contend it is not suitable for logging.

So they spurn settlement, live a life of wandering and virtual illiteracy for their children in comparison with the reserve-blocked Cree.

OTTAWA HEARS

"Their lot is going to be attended to by the government," said F. D. Shaw (S.C.D. Deer) asked about the Chippewa house when the federal government intended to do about their health because they had declined to treat them, except in emergencies, until the Indian department increased its staff.

It was reported that in 1943 a proposal was made to the Chippewas for health of the Indians concerned but so far that had not been approved by the department.

In the meantime, the doctors treated the Indians and billed the department at minimum schedule of fees of College of Physicians and Surgeons in Ottawa.

They decided against further treatment, except in emergencies, when the department continued to reduce the accounts.

JUSTIFIED ACTION

Nobody in Rocky Mountain House acquainted with the situation blames the doctors.

"The doctors have been faithful to their professions and the Indians have driven miles to treat the sick," said Henry Stelco, former Indian department representative, "and they will not be expected to continue to do so."

But the story is much deeper than the fee problems of the doctors.

It is a situation that many people around Rocky Mountain House believe "should be fully investigated" by Ottawa.

One man said, "only God knows how the Chippewa live... but something over 500 of them, of white men's stores, by what hunting they can get, by what work they can get in seasonal clearing brush."

LIVE IN TENTS

They live in tents, travel from place to place with horses. They are hunting to live, and in winter their horses must be kept in the open.

The children are taught to read and write their own language, but other ways are virtually illiterate and the longer the situation continues, the worse it becomes for other generations that manage to survive.

Perhaps the man at the bottom of it all is old Chief Jim O'Brien who died about 12 years ago at 80 years.

He was Old Jim who years ago led the band to hunt around Nor. Gage, Brazeau and North Saskatchewan rivers each winter, in the spring, after disposing of their catch at Rocky Mountain House they would go east and live in the Red River to spend the summer in the West Hills.

Each fall they would have their annual buffalo hunt (to stock up for the winter). One of the last animals would make around 100 pounds of pemmican.

RAGED LOT

Chief Stelco recalled that when he came to Rocky Mountain House in 1930 the Chippewas were a "mighty ragged looking lot."

He said they lived in shacks that were no better than hovels with the one hole used for a window generally covered with sod.

"Today they haven't that."

The Chippewas at that time claimed they had been driven from pillar to post and had taken to living in the foothills, hoping they would not be molested.

At the same time they spent their time in the hills, and some of them as a dying wish had asked them to leave the foothills and live in the hills, while white settlers flocked around Rocky Mountain House and a band of Cree under Chief Senechal was moved there from North Battleford by the department.

The Chippewas subsequently moved out because of their contention.

The Chippewas went to Whitecourt and Mayagethorne on the Athabasca river, some to west of Hinton, but they are beginning to drift back.

They are in dire straits, but were described as "very proud and as honest as the face of a long."

One man said that his wife was inclined to criticize the Chippewas.

Car Is Held After Mishap

DAWSON CREEK, Oct. 31.—Earl Showers, who received treatment in Dawson Creek after losing a finger in a threshing accident, was later involved in a car collision. The accident occurred when a car driven by W. P. Johnson, of Port St. John, collided with the car in which Showers was a passenger. The car was driven by L. P. Lampert and L. H. In 1939 you could hear the call of the country for the noise of the all over the place as Johns went to Leduc where he worked until 1940 when he was elected to the council and the same year the council developed perpetual readers at Leduc developed oil.

In 1948 Johns found the job of mayor was no breeze as he had to over to finish term of another fellow. This year he was re-elected for two more years.

And as a fellow who has never heard of a five day week, Mayor Johns also finds a hand now and again to the Canadian Legion, Leduc club, of which he is past president and past secretary, the I.O.O.F., and Bika' lodge, by the name of which he is a retired president.

The convention also passed a resolution sponsored by Nolan asking the government to amend the Town and Village Act to empower councils to enact bylaws requiring businesses to pay a greater extent than in per cent of the value to be rebuilt to requirements of building standards in the bylaws.

Recent court decision held municipalities did not have power to enforce this request.

Visiting Scribe Brings Message to Conclave

World peace will be assured only when we become world citizens, and stop fencing ourselves in and looking down on other nations.

The sands of sanity are rapidly dropping in the international hourglass, and if we lose the present battle for peace it may be the last battle of the human race.

This was the theme Jay Longh, Fresno, Calif., newspaperman, brought to more than 250 Y's Men and Y's Menettes assembled over the weekend in Edmonton YMCA for the fourth annual prairie region convocation.

"Basis of the present struggle is not communism versus capitalism," he said, "but freedom versus police state."

"Another war would mean no fruits but destruction and death. Never before in man's history has he faced complete destruction."

"But I refuse to believe our day are numbered. The ancient fable of Aladdin's lamp and its genii is timeless. We must turn stone discourses to hankies' bric-a-brac to achieve happiness."

"Real answer to the atomic quandary lies not with war but with the world's social conscience," he said. "The world is not at the cross-

Council Will Hear Report On Civic Election Meetings

Official city-sponsored election campaign activities will begin with a meeting Wednesday, Oct. 26, in Calder school, 129 avenue and 118 street.

This is the recommendation of city council's special election committee, in a report to be presented tonight to council.

Mayoralty candidates should be entitled to speak on arrival, but at least 20 aldermanic or school board candidates must be heard before the second mayoralty candidate is given the platform.

The committee recommends that market stall holders be advised that campaign meetings and broadcasts are for candidates only, and that no time can be allotted for speakers containing the $300,000 market money bill.

Three other suggested election meetings are as follows:

Thursday, Oct. 27, Strathcona Assembly hall, 10213-42 avenue.

Each in Own Corner Good Marital Plan

I recently read a magazine piece entitled, "What's Wrong with Modern Marriage?" in which the author opined that the divorce rate would drop like an overripe apple if the average wife showed more interest in her husband's business and hobbies. Well, maybe so, but you can't prove it by my Uncle Charlie and my Aunt Frieda.

Charlie and Frieda are a couple of oldsters who have been living in a four-room flat on the East Side almost as long as magazines have been printing articles entitled, "What's Wrong with Modern Marriage." Ever since their nuptials, they've had at least one argument a day, and when they stop scolding each other when I start worrying about them.

I remember an evening back in the days when I was knee-high to the Allen Street curbside when Aunt Frieda came home from the movies with an air of unbecoming nobility.

"Charlie," she said tensely, "how is business of the shop, good, bad or fair to the middle?" "Eh-peh," answered my uncle. "Eh-peh," I hasten to translate, means that things being what they are, if a man breaks even he can consider himself a runaway success.

"Eh-peh" is an answer," said Frieda. "I am sick of living in a six's house." "I see," said Charlie. "Tonight in the nickelodeon was showing Nana in a Doll's House by Hyman Hersh."

"Then, Shmitten," said Frieda. "You can't push me out of your life. Conclude in me everything, come thick or thin." "This I'll concede," said Charlie. "I'm tired out like a dog. Had enough I live through the day with not it should repeat on me the tedious."

Frieda Keeps Moving In
However, with my Aunt Frieda, like Columbus, there was no turning back. She kept picking away until Charlie deemed the day's delinquency—everything from patching to punch-out.

But that was only the beginning. The payoff came a few weeks later when Charlie was fixing to attend his weekly pinocle session. "I want you should teach me how to play," said Frieda.

"Pinocle," said Charlie. "Always you are saying pinocle is for losers and no-goodies." "I can't say different," said Frieda. "But pinocle is your passion and I don't want it should take my place in your life."

Now, my uncle was a broad-minded man. When women began to bob their hair, his comment was "They want to ventilate their necks, so let them." But pinocle—well, that was another matter. Nevertheless, he knew better than to balk his wife outright and, as he explained the game to Frieda, all the while thinking bitterly of the coffeehouse station he was missing, a plot began to hatch in his head.

Yugoslavs Rap Last Red Pal

BEIGRADE, Yugoslavia, Oct. 11.—(BUP)—Yugoslavia accused Albania today of murdering a Yugoslav border guard and told the Soviet satellite it was "high time it stopped provoking border incidents."

The Yugoslavs charged in a note that Prit. Milar Vojnovic was shot in the back from ambush Oct. 7. The note said the killing was the latest in a series of provocative border incidents by Albanian patrols despite a Yugoslav request Sept. 5 that Albania negotiate establishment of a joint border commission.

"Albania still has not answered this Yugoslav proposal, which proves the Albanian government does not want a normal state of affairs on the Yugoslav-Albanian border," the note said.

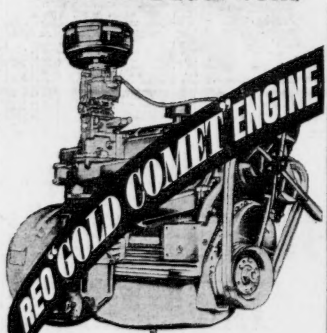

Albania is the only one of the seven Balkan nations which has not denounced its friendship treaty with Yugoslavia.
